About us

Revolutionize how businesses sell on socials

SleekFlow powers the future of e-commerce, featuring an omnichannel social commerce platform that enables full conversational journeys across WhatsApp Business API, Facebook, Instagram, SMS, live chat on websites, and popular social and messaging applications.

We use smart routing rules to streamline sales and customer support workflows. Our customer engagement solution allows businesses to blast out targeted marketing messages for enhanced sales performance. Conversions through conversations have never been easier.
Multiple/scattered channels

- ? Conversations are not centralized on a platform, so agents are slow to get to customers

- ✓ Omnichannel team inbox enables agents to respond faster

Long sales cycle from chat to shop

- ? Sales associates are unable to convert in chat, and businesses cannot track team performance

- ✓ Pay-in-chat features with performance analytics for one-click checkout

Lack of visibility to client information when chatting on social messaging platforms

- ? Businesses have to check on their CRM or backend systems manually for client details

- ✓ Sync client information automatically from CRM/ e-commerce systems

Unable to send promotions to targeted groups on social platforms

- ? Businesses cannot segment clients based on their membership tier or past buying history

- ✓ SleekFlow's broadcast feature with segmentation and personalization

Case

All channels are merged to one platform

Before using SleekFlow, each colleague was responsible for one messaging platform. It was not centralized. After using SleekFlow, messages from all channels are merged to one platform. As sales associates bond with customers, they can add the customer's product of interest to the cart, draft an order on SleekFlow, and close the deal with a one-click checkout link.

Top sales accelerator software

SleekFlow has created a new omnichannel approach for us to conduct marketing and broadcasting effectively. It is one of the best choices for any direct-to-consumer business or anyone needing regular communication with customers.
